	So, you know, Dominion is also partially based in Canada, but it's based in other countries too. And nobody knows where the votes—but you know, Canada refuses to use Dominion. Canada uses paper ballots. So think of it: They're based in Canada, and Canada refuses to use them. They're smart. They use paper ballots, because paper ballots are the only thing—frankly, the only thing that really you're going to get an accurate tab on, because those machines are fixed. They're rigged. You can press 'Trump,' and the vote goes to Biden. All you have to do is play with a chip, and it's down—it's shown all the time. All you have to do is play with a chip. And they played with a chip, especially in Wayne County, in Detroit. You take a look.” <small>-Donald Trump, “Remarks During a Video Teleconference With United States Servicemembers and Exchange With Reporters,” presidency.ucsb.edu, November 26, 2020</small>	are rigged to change Trump votes to Biden

18.	11/26/2020 “Massive fraud has been found. We're like a third-world country. We're using computer equipment that can be hacked. They talk about glitches: How many glitches did they find? So a glitch—‘Oh, gee. We had a glitch: 5,000 votes.’ In all cases—right? In all cases, the votes went from Trump to Biden. They didn't go from Biden—the glitches were never from Biden to Trump. So they had many glitches. And they said, "Oh, we had a glitch.' That—a glitch is like: 'The equipment is a little broken. We'll fix it up.' No. A glitch is, in this case, we caught them cheating. We caught them stealing. We caught a fraudulent effort to get votes. And they said, 'Oh, yes, it's true. It—there was, but'—and there were many of them.	Voting machinery had glitches that allowed hackers and/or altered settings to change Trump votes to Biden

	But here's the problem: There were probably 10, 20, 30 times that didn't get caught. We just got lucky and caught numerous of them. But what that is, is very simple. If you look at the glitch, the glitch means—right? It means: ‘Oh, we got caught. We got caught with the votes, and now let's just call it a glitch.’ It wasn't the [voting] machinery. And by the way, the machinery, if you look—just take a look anywhere on the internet; you will see many, many people where they're experimenting with this stupid machinery—where, if you set it a certain way, the votes go from Trump to Biden.” <small>-Donald Trump, “Remarks During a Video Teleconference With United States Servicemembers and Exchange With Reporters,” presidency.ucsb.edu, November 26, 2020</small>

³ Trump has said that 6,000 votes in Michigan were changed from Trump to Biden, a claim also spread by others such as RNC chair Ronna McDaniel. The Michigan Department of State said an “accidental error” was caused by an Antrim County clerk forgetting to update the software used to send unofficial results, leading to incorrect unofficial reports that Biden won the county. The state said the actual count was always reflected correctly on the tabulator totals tape and on the ballots themselves. The tabulator totals tape are reviewed by a board of two Democrats and two Republicans to ensure accuracy.

He doesn't want Trump, let's just switch it around.' Think of that, they're trying to determine the voter's intent in over 106,000 ballots out of a total of 113,000 ballots... '[T]here is clear evidence that tens of thousands of votes were switched from President Trump to Former Vice President Biden in several counties throughout Georgia. For example, in Bibb County' -- anybody live in Bibb County? Bibb? Bibb? Bibb? B-I-B-B? 'President Trump was reported to have 29,391 at 9:11 PM, while simultaneously, Former Vice President Joe Biden was reported to have 17,218.
